Welcome to Chemung County, where you can explore the many facets of a rich and vibrant community steeped in magnificent history and charm. Chemung County is not only the southern gateway to Finger Lakes Wine Country, New York’s largest wine-producing region, lauded for its breathtaking vistas and award-winning wines, but it has a fascinating story all its own.

In the Algonquin language, Chemung means “place of the horn,” in homage to a time when the Native Americans would discover large mammoth tusks along what is now the Chemung River.

Woodlawn National Cemetery stands as a tribute to soldiers who died at the infamous prison camp that was in Elmira during the Civil War, while a harrowing chapter of local history, it is deservedly commemorated at the cemetery, which has the distinction of being the northernmost Confederate monument in the United States.

The area is well-known for its riveting ties to military history. Newtown Battenfield, a national historic landmark, was the site of a significant offensive clash in the Sullivan-Clinton Campaign of the American Revolution.

Elmira’s significance also comes from holding the revered title of National Soaring Capital of America. Harris Hill, internationally known for its spectacular thermals, is home to the National Soaring Museum, which houses the world’s largest sailplane collection. Glider rides on Harris Hill are a thrilling experience not to be missed. Elmira has been home to many heroes and pioneers, including Ernie Davis, the first African-American to win the Heisman Trophy; astronaut Eileen Collins, the first African-American to win the Heiman Trophy; astronaut Eileen Collins, the first woman to pilot a space shuttle; fashion icon Tommy Hilfiger; NBC news anchor Brian Williams; and Hollywood producer Hal Roach of Laurel & Hardy and The Little Rascals Fame.

Its most famous resident, however, was American author Mark Twain. Twain married Olivia Langdon, a woman from a prominent local family, and they summered here for more than twenty years. He wrote his most famous works, including The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, in his study at Quarry Farm on East Hill, which overlooked the majestic Chemung Valley. The view, with its rolling green hills punctuated by the serpentine Chemung River, was said to have served as a great inspiration to his writings.

Twain, who died in 1910, was buried in Elmira alongside his beloved wife and children, and his memory is honored throughout the year by visitors to his gravesite in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Twain’s study can be found today on the beautiful Elmira College campus, which was the first institution in the U.S. to grant women collegiate degrees equal to those of men. The study has been deemed the “#1 Literary Attraction in America” by USA Today and the college, home to the Center for Mark Twain Studies, also features an exhibit of Twain artifacts related to his time here.

So enjoy your stay in Mark Twain Country, where we’re not only Proud To Be Where Twain Remains, but proud of the plethora of arts, culture, accommodations, shopping, cuisine, festivals and outdoor adventures that make Chemung County an incredible place to visit and live.
Clemens Center – Downtown Elmira, NY
The Region’s Performing Arts Center

From blockbuster Broadway shows and dazzling dance programs to rousing classical and contemporary concerts to feel-good family entertainment, the Clemens Center excites and delights audiences of all ages!

Visit ClemensCenter.org for a complete listing of events.

The Clemens Center, a 501(c)(3) organization, operates family entertainment, the Clemens Center and contemporary concerts to feel-good year-round. Come experience the magic of the arts!

Clemens Center is the only location in the region where you can find a variety of dance performances, concerts, family-friendly entertainment and Broadway shows each year.

The powers theater, restored to its Vaudeville-era grandeur and adorned by intricate murals, gold-leaf details and opera boxes. The venue is also home to Mansfield Hall, a versatile “black box” space used for comedy club and Elmira Little Theatre performances. The Clemens Center is the only location in the region where you can find a variety of dance performances, concerts, family-friendly entertainment and Broadway shows each year.

Don’t forget to stop by the Near Westside Historic District for an up-close look at the highest concentration of Victorian homes in New York State. The vast majority of homes in this neighborhood were constructed prior to 1914 and each house showcases its own individual character.

Arts & Culture

The arts and culture scene in Chemung County is a trove of something for everyone, from Broadway shows to art and history exhibits to architectural wonders.

The Arnot Art Museum, a world-class museum located in downtown Elmira, displays a breathtaking permanent array of 17th to 19th century European paintings, 19th and 20th century American art, and collections of Asian and Egyptian artifacts. A landmark for more than 100 years and “arguably the best small-town art museum in America” according to Vitality magazine, the museum also features numerous exhibitions and programs throughout the year including a juried Regional Exhibition, The Scholastic Art Awards, ArtNow, The Palette Awards, The Gallery Gala Exhibition and a Holiday Art Market.

The Chemung Valley History Museum is home to an astounding 20,000 artifacts, 30,000 manuscripts and 16,000 photographs that tell Chemung Valley’s compelling story. Housed in the former Chemung Canal Bank, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the museum shares the fascinating memories of its community through exhibits, educational programming for adults and children, research opportunities, and events such as the annual Ghost Walk in October, a guided evening tour through Woodlawn Cemetery where participants meet “ghosts” from Elmira’s past portrayed by local actors.

The museum is also one of only two places in the world where you can view a piece of the cloth wing used during the Wright Brothers’ first powered flight in 1903. The venue hosts educational programs, lectures, symposiums and special events year-round.

Right next to the Soaring Museum, you’ll find Harris Hill Soaring Corporation, where you can arrange to experience a graceful glider ride of your very own. Scheduled soaring season is from April through October, with extensive opportunities during the summer and shorter hours of operation in the spring and fall, weather permitting. FAA-certified commercial glider pilots take visitors aloft in either a high performance ASK-21 glider or a classic Schweizer 2-33 trainer, point out the local sights, and allow riders to enjoy the beauty of all the surrounding hillsides, lakes and rivers in this one-of-a-kind experience.

Head on down the hill to visit the Corning Museum of Glass (CMOG) and The Rockwell. CMOG is the world’s largest glass museum, featuring ongoing Hot Glass shows, thirty-five centuries of glass artistry, and Make Your Own Glass experiences. The Rockwell is a Smithsonian Affiliate Museum of American Art. Frommer’s describes it as “one of the best-designed small museums in the Northeast.”

AVIATION

Take a glider ride over the Chemung Valley and discover why individuals and associations from across the globe have come here for decades for soaring contests and events, earning Elmira and its picturesque Harris Hill the title of Soaring Capital of America.

The National Soaring Museum celebrates the history of motorless flight with a wealth of captivating exhibits and an unparalleled collection of sailplanes dating from the late 1890s to the late 20th century. The museum is also one of only two places in the world where you can view a piece of the cloth wing used during the Wright Brothers’ first powered flight in 1903. The venue hosts educational programs, lectures, symposiums and special events year-round.

Head on down the hill to visit the Wings of Eagles Discovery Center, a 25,000 square foot hangar facility that specializes in formal and informal education programs in science, technology, engineering and math. Wings of Eagles houses a large aerospace collection open for public viewing, with military aircraft from World War II to the present.

Chemung County is also notable for its proximity to other regional attractions, including the Corning Museum of Glass (CMOG) and The Rockwell. CMOG is the world’s largest glass museum, featuring ongoing Hot Glass shows, thirty-five centuries of glass artistry, and Make Your Own Glass experiences. on display, as well as two full-sized replicas, missiles, flight simulators and a large collection of warplane, military and astronaut memorabilia.

Take a trip to nearby Hammondsport to extend your adventure with a stop at the Glenn H. Curtiss Museum. Focused on early aviation and local history, the museum honors Hammondsport native Glenn Curtiss, a bicycle and motorcycle builder who became a pioneer pilot. The museum, in addition to its displays and exhibits, has a 75-seat theater and a Restoration Shop, where visitors can talk to volunteer craftsmen and watch them work on historic aircraft.

OUTDOOR & FAMILY ADVENTURES

Venture out and experience Chemung County’s scenic appeal firsthand while taking advantage of the many opportunities to get active locally.

The Chemung River had a fascinating history throughout Native American, Revolutionary War, Civil War, Underground Railroad and Industrial Era times. The most comprehensive source on the past and present of the river is Friends of the Chemung River Watershed, where you can find vast amounts of information on river events, activities and recreational opportunities, including hiking, biking, boating, fishing, driving tours and wildlife viewing.

Southern Tier Kayak Tours offers public paddles on the Chemung River. The “Paddle the Pulsaders” tour explores more than six miles of river valley, and includes points about local history and wildlife. You can view the high cliffs carved by glaciers, meander around several small islands, and don’t forget to keep your eyes peeled for resident bald eagles. No experience is needed; all tours begin with a safety orientation and paddling lesson from guides with more than a decade of professional experience. A shuttle bus is also provided back to your vehicle at the end of the tour for the utmost convenience.

For visitors who’d prefer to stay on dry land, Chemung County boasts diverse hiking opportunities. Tanglewood Nature Center & Museum has more than nine miles of trails where you can see the best of Chemung Nature: The Friends of the Chemung Watershed. There are trails for every ability level, and they are open daily from sunrise to sunset for hiking, trail running, cross-country skiing and snowshoeing. Tanglewood is also a local favorite for viewing amazing fall foliage.

Additionally, the Catharine Valley, Lackawanna, Chemung River Valley and Harris Hill trails all offer their own opportunities for hiking during your visit.

Campsers will find Park Station and Recreation Center an ideal place to get away. Park Station features forty large, wooded campsites, many of which are located on a hundred-acre lake. Fishing, swimming, boating, picnics, softball, volleyball, hiking trails and winter activities including cross-country skiing and ice skating are all favorite pastimes at the station.

For additional family fun, look no further than two popular local draws, Harris Hill Amusement Park and Eldridge Park. Harris Hill Amusement Park features a delightfully vintage atmosphere and is open during the spring, summer and early fall. Activities at the park include batting cages, kiddie rides, miniature golf, go-karts, a driving range arcade, and a nearby picnic area and pool. You can also take in the view from the nearby Harris Hill Overlook.

Eldridge Park boasts a number of attractions open to visitors during the summer months; in addition to its Victorian-themed Mark Twain miniature golf course with enticing mini-train, the park also offers rides on paddle boats as well as a restored 1950s Looff Carousel, where you can still catch a brass ring. Dragon boat trips around the lake are also available during the summer, and the park’s lovely lakeside trail can be experienced year-round.

Make it a special occasion and ride in style along the countryside with TLC Limo or Silk Limousine, both of which offer wine tours of the region.

And if ale is more your style, don’t forget to check out Chemung County’s exciting breweries. Elmira’s Upstate Brewing Company is an award-winning craft brewery. They specialize in unique craft brewing recipes with Finger Lakes and New York State ingredients. Stop by and visit their kid and dog friendly taproom and patio in the summer months. Upstate Brewing also hosts a variety of events throughout the year, from Paint & Pint, to Yoga & Beer, as well as food trucks to keep your belly and glass full. Horseheads Brewing hand crafts high quality beer that has captured numerous statewide awards. The delicious beers on tap and the Open Mic Night on the weekends make Horseheads Brewing a must stop.

Diversion Brewing Company started in the kitchen stove quickly transitioned to the garage and then into a business. Not only are the beers handcrafted, but almost everything in the tasting room has been refurbished, recycled, or even up-cycled and built by the owners, friends and family. This combination creates a welcoming atmosphere in which you can totally relax.

The Finger Lakes House is another gem in the area. The Finger Lakes House proudly serves only locally crafted beer and wine from the flourishing and state-supported industry surrounding Elmira. They couple these fantastic, ever rotating beverages with foods influenced by our region in a classic “farm-to-table” menu.
Mark Twain's substantial relationship with Elmira began when he married local woman Olivia Langdon in 1870. His family spent more than twenty summers at Quarry Farm (home of Olivia's sister, Susan Crane), where he wrote his best-known works in his octagonal study perched high atop East Hill. In Mark Twain Country, the author's local ties are celebrated in a multitude of ways.

Elmira College is home to the Center for Mark Twain Studies, one of the leading centers for Twain research in the world. On its campus, you'll easily be able to find the impressive Mark Twain's Study, which is the author's study. The trolley departs from the ticket station is a replica of Twain's study. Twain's grave may be visited throughout the year at Woodlawn Cemetery, with cemetery signs directing visitors to the plot that is the final resting place for the author, his wife, her family and their children. The site is marked by a headstone that is twelve feet tall (or two fathoms, a nautical measurement known as a "mark twain"). Visitors have been known to leave many different items, most notably cigars, which the author was known as a "mark twain"). Visitors have been known to leave many different items, most notably cigars, which the author was known to smoke abundantly, in tribute to Twain at his gravesite.

The area's biggest attraction is Quarry Farm. While Quarry Farm can still be found on East Hill, it serves as a home for visiting Mark Twain scholars and is not open to the public except for special events and a lecture series held annually as a home for visiting Mark Twain scholars and is not open to the public except for special events and a lecture series held annually.
